SAIGON, Viet Nam, Aug. 31 (UPI)—A U. S. military spokesman said today that an American air force captain was killed when communist guerrillas fired on his plane near the edge of Bien Hoa airbase. The spokesman also disclosed that four other Americans have been wounded by communist mines and gunfire in South Viet Nam. The slain air force captain was identified as Richard Dean Goss, Seattle. The spokesman said Goss was killed along with a Vietnamese student pilot Saturday while practicing night landings at the American Bien Hoa base, 15 miles south of Saigon. U. S. jet bombers are stationed at the base.

The slain captain was the 17th American to die in South Viet Nam since Jan. 1, 1961. Of these 188 have been killed in combat action.

Two other Americans—an American officer and an American man—were wounded when their jeep struck a communist mine yesterday 20 miles north of Saigon on Highway 10.

Their condition was described as "not serious" but they were taken to the U. S. naval hospital in Saigon for further treatment.

A U. S. special forces officer was wounded yesterday morning when two communist guerrillas ambushed a government patrol near the Cambodian border, 50 miles west of Saigon. He was said to be in fair condition at Saigon navy hospital.

Nineteen Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed, wounded or missing in the same engagement, but two other American advisers with them escaped injury.

The third, James Lackey, described by the others as a former U. S. Marine, was captured.

Attorneys for Joseph Howard Smith and Cecil William Myers said they were ready for trial.

Court spectators were segregated. Negro onlookers sat in a crowded balcony. Only two Negroes among 96 prospective jurors were on the main floor of the courtroom.

Attorney John W. Willford, representing Lackey, disclosed that he is moving in federal court for the suppression of certain evidence involving his client. He reportedly was evidence gathered by the FBI.

The money goes both to the reclamation bureau and the Bonneville Power Administration.

Also included is $3.5 million dollars for construction on the Dworak dam in northern Idaho.

The total in the bill is $4,430,794,700, which compares with President Johnson's budget recommendations of $4,440,740,000 and last year's appropriation of $4,092,400,000.

One big item in the bill is $4.4 billion dollars to start work on the Northwest Pacific-Southwest Pacific Interline lines which will link the Bonneville power system with public and private utilities in California and Arizona.

5 Are Killed In European Train Crash

ARNHEM, The Netherlands, Aug. 31 (UPI)—Two passenger trains—a German border local and a Dutch sleeper—crashed head-on this morning near the Western-vort bridge east of here.

Police reported at least five persons were killed and 22 others injured. Several of the injured were reported in serious condition.

The accident occurred on the Arnhem to Zevenaar track at a spot where the double track line becomes single for passage across the narrow Western-vort bridge.

Police said the German train, running from Oberhausen to Arnhem with only a few passengers aboard, was moving at high speed when it collided with the Dutch train on its way from Arnhem to Winterwijk.

Officials said the coach of one train rose into the air and fell on the third coach of the other.

Congress Tackles Legislation Backlog in Post-Meet Session

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (UPI)—Congress reconvened today in a post-convention session to tackle a backlog of legislation blocking the way to its election year adjournment. First order of business in the senate was a house-passed bill to expand social security coverage which will be the springboard for a fight over medical care for the aged. Some house and senate leaders have indicated it may take three to four weeks before the legislative calendar can be cleared.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D. Minn., the Democratic vice presidential nominee, was on hand to help shepherd the administration program to a vote. In the house, the Republican vice presidential nominee, Rep. William E. Miller, R. N. Y., was present. But both President Johnson and the GOP presidential candidate, Barry M. Goldwater, were on pre-campaign vacations.

Among the issues still to be decided by the lawmakers were the Medicare bill, foreign aid, and one portion of President Johnson's overall anti-poverty program.

Supporters of the health care program for elderly persons predicted the slugging fight would be the outlook for house approval was dim.

In the house, representatives were expected to give early approval to Johnson's one billion dollar proposal for revivifying the depressed Appalachia region as part of his anti-poverty program.

Although both Johnson and GOP presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater were on pre-campaign vacations and were not on hand as congress got back to work, the session was expected to have political overtones.

In addition, 21 of the 100 senate seats and all the House seats are at stake in the November election, giving many members a campaign interest in the final legislative action.

Presidential leaders had hoped to finish their work before the Democratic convention, but the issue of legislative re-appointment stalled the drive. It is also expected that a possible stumbling block to a quick cleanup of the post-convention session.

Keating's principal opponent in the fight for the senate seat he now holds will be Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, to be nominated by the Democrats Tuesday.

FBI Probes Cause of Race Riots

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (UPI)—The FBI and the city's police intelligence unit have started an investigation into the cause of the Philadelphia riots, Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D. Pa., told the senate today. Clark said "there is not a scintilla of evidence" that "civil rights had anything to do with the outbreaks." He said no civil rights leader had anything to do with the riots and that all the rights leaders had supported Mayor James Tate and the police.

The Pennsylvania senator, lauded Tate and the city's police. There was no indication evidence of police brutality, Clark said. "No tear gas was used. . . . No dogs were brought out."

The week-end of Negro rioting, plundering and bloodshed was the worst outbreak of violence in the city since the riots of 1963.

Mayor Tate declared the situation under control but kept in force a 34-hour curfew and a guard of 1,500 policemen in the ravaged Negro area in North Philadelphia known as the "Jungle."

In all, 340 persons were injured, seven of them in brief skirmishes with police last night. More than 100 of the injured were policemen. The mayor said "damage costs would amount to several million dollars, including overtime pay for 3,000 policemen."

The number arrested by police during the three days of rioting totaled 300 men, women and teen-agers. A special court was set up at city hall to dispose of the charges against them. A total of 107 cases had been disposed of before Judge Vincent A. Carroll adjourned court shortly before midnight until this morning. Most of the defendants were held in jail.

Policemen armed with riot clubs patrolled the six-square-mile area constantly. Some rode in buses as complete squads ready to rush into various sections where trouble developed. Other police patrolled the area in patrol cars while hundreds of bused bays abeyant to a few hundred feet.

The tightened surveillance wasn't enough, however, to control the situation completely. Bands of Negroes, many of them armed, roamed the streets.

No branch of government has been subject to such criticism as that directed at the supreme court down through the years. Presidents have vented their spleen against the court and explored all possible avenues of neutralizing court decisions. And any president who gets the chance to appoint a new justice to the top tribunal makes quite certain his appointee is one who will agree generally with his own political philosophies.

Congress has raged at the supreme court and is involved right now in an attempt to keep the top court away from reapportionment of state legislatures, or to delay enforcement of court decisions in the matter of reapportionment. Governor Smylie asserts that any congressional move to restrict the nation's top court in such a manner sets a dangerous precedent. But Idaho Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard thinks congress is within its rights, saying the Constitution provides federal courts shall operate "with such exceptions and under such regulations as the congress shall make."

Grade school children are taught that the founding fathers set up the U. S. government with a system of checks and balances to prevent any branch of the government dominating the other branches to the detriment of citizens. The idea is incorporated in the three branches, executive, legislative and judicial. But in this system of checks and balances, the judicial branch operates under a handicap not imposed on either the executive or legislative. The courts—judicial branch of government—cannot take original action.

Through a law passed by congress and signed by the President could be patently unconstitutional, the supreme court cannot rule until a suit works its way up through the court system. Likewise, a president could mis-use his executive powers without ever being called to account over whether he acted within the Constitution.

In the absence of a suit challenging constitutionality of a law, the statute remains in the books.

There are some rather rare examples where the normal course of appeal has been waived by the courts. Idaho's supreme court has accepted original jurisdiction when it was obvious that the best interests of the public would be served by an early ruling. The nation's top court isn't likely to follow suit. All courts restrict their rulings to the specific point at issue. Reapportionment decisions provide a good example. Some experts have declared the one-man, one-vote theory outlined in reapportionment decisions mean the nation's electoral college is unconstitutional. Yet until and unless some citizen files suit, there will be no ruling on the college.

There may be literally hundreds of laws that are contrary to the Constitution, some from the moment they were passed and others because of changing concepts and evolution of society. The supreme court doesn't even have authority to review statutes. Perhaps the court should have authority to indicate what laws may be illegal.

IMPOSSIBLE WAR

American citizens can be forgiven if they keep asking themselves why the U. S. has become so involved in Viet Nam, and if there's any prospect of the situation improving in the near future. Some 200 Americans have been killed in a war in which their role technically was restricted to that of "adviser." Some 16,000 American soldiers are advising now and the number will be increased to more than 20,000.

And while Americans have been advising and financing the war in Viet Nam, Vietnamese affairs have managed to remain in a state of almost constant turmoil. Leadership of the government has changed hands several times while rioting and demonstrations appear to have become a way of life in South Viet Nam.

Can there be any possibility of victory for South Viet Nam in its fight for survival against communism? How can a nation continue to be embroiled in what amounts to two wars, one military and one civil?

American advisers must be almost overwhelmed by feelings of futility and frustration. They must question whether expenditure of more American money and lives can change the shape and direction of the war against communism. And always hanging over their heads is the threat that increased American activity in South Viet Nam could make a big war out of what still passes as a small war.

It would appear from this distance that stability of the government for South Viet Nam is a prerequisite to successful prosecution of the war effort. There's no indication of how such stability can be achieved. Both time and circumstances seem to weigh heavily in favor of the communists.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, Aug. 31—Congress' return to work today holds a medium of hope for those who believe Americans who dislike the idea of dying from lack of care should they fall ill.

This hope rests on the fact that the Democrats, who traditionally run the show on Capitol Hill, see a Medicare program as an important source of votes in November. The big boss himself, Lyndon Johnson, would give his favorite beagle to get some kind of medical care legislation on the books before he goes to an election for which includes 10 million aged voters.

LIBY ON RECORD—Johnson has said several times in tones that can only be described as ringing that he is still behind the King-Anderson bill to finance medical aid under social security, and that he would "do everything I can to get it enacted." Apart from its political value, he should. The inadequacy of commercial hospital and medical plans offered the aged is a national disgrace; it is no great feat to say insurance is available if the elderly person can't afford to buy it.

There now is talk of course, that the administration may have to be satisfied with the compromise bill offered by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D. Conn. That is because the King-Anderson bill has been locked up in the house ways and means committee for months, victims of the distrust of its chairman, Rep. Wilbur Mills, D. Ark., has for any Medicare legislation tied to social security.

RISKS SPLIT PARTY—President Johnson, the arm twister, is said to have been working on Mills on the basis of party responsibility, meaning the Democrats need the bill to win the November 3rd, however, Mills hasn't budged. If he remains firm, Johnson and the leadership in congress may run the risk of a party schism and override Mills in order to spring the Ribicoff compromise.

The Ribicoff plan is at best half a loaf. Under it, an aged person can take a $7 per month cash benefit under social security or a $2 per month increase and some health care. This care includes the same hospital and nursing home benefits as the King-Anderson bill but no home nursing service or outpatient services. Doctors' bills are not covered under either plan.

But if the Ribicoff amendment is all that can be passed, the result will be a split party in congress. They talk a lot of guff about the Republicans and Southern Democrats ganging up on the leadership, but they remain the majority party in congress and they could take care of the Southern Democrats with a touch of party discipline on such matters as patronage.

WEIGHING THE RISK—Consider the vote in the senate finance committee rejecting Medicare. Five Democrats, all Southerners, joined with six Republicans to beat the bill, 11 to 6—Byrd of Virginia, Long of Louisiana, Smathers of Florida, Fulbright of Arkansas and Talmadge of Georgia. That's a pretty solid front in opposition to a bill pushed by a party presumably dedicated to the common man.

Johnson has shown, notably in passage of the civil rights act, that he will take the risk of offending the South if the stakes are high enough. On the theory that old folks are as important as Negroes, he should take this risk again on Medicare.

Views of Others

GLOBAL CIVIL RIGHTS
The victory for the civil rights bill in congress is further proof that, despite all obstacles, the United States is determined to do its best to abolish all kinds of discrimination and violation of human rights to give new validity to the American credo that all men are created free and equal. But the good faith of this nation is still being impugned by the surprising and inexplicable failure of the American government to ratify four United Nations conventions that make the battle for human rights worldwide.

These conventions, already endorsed by scores of other countries, outlaw (1) genocide, or the extermination of a race; (2) forced labor; (3) slavery and (4) subjugation of women. They have all been signed by the American government, and the Geneva convention as long ago as 1948, and all have been sent to the senate for approval. But they remain bottled up in senate committees because of what is characterized as "illegitimate brickbats," so-called after the former Senator Bricker of Ohio, who feared that such conventions might infringe on our Constitution.

Now that the congressional battle over the domestic civil rights bill is nearly won, the Johnson administration, like the Kennedy administration before it, is making new efforts to get senate approval of the global "civil rights" compacts. Secretary Rusk and Assistant Secretary Cleveland have served out a secret weapon. The "abridgment" in this field is the power of the American people to rally to their support and compel action that is long overdue.—New York Times.

CAN SMOG BE AHEAD?

One needn't take too seriously the complaint of the Russian track team that Los Angeles smog was a factor in the Soviet athletes' loss to the U. S. team in Los Angeles. The temptation is to give a leading mentor to alibi, even if he disavows our groves, as Dr. G. G. Vozbyed in an article in the Moscow newspaper Trud.

If smog were a significant factor in athletic performance in Los Angeles, sports teams from the Pacific Northwest would have a built-in alibi. But the Russian doctor's observations suggest, however, that the Los Angeles smog gets much worse if it could never be controlled. The problem would be to control. Under present circumstances it's the home folks who are more often in target range.—The Oregonian.

NASH ON HAD VERSE

Word that poet Ogden Nash will edit an anthology of bad poetry will come as no surprise to those who know of Mr. Nash's long time fascination with terrible verse. He once found a whole book of it and was overcome. "It was so bad, I stole it," he recalled in a letter to a friend.

Mr. Nash said nothing about including in the projected volume any of his own lesser works. But he told a bookellers' convention in Washington last week that he would "rather be a bad poet than a good one." Having earned that niche in the pantheon of poetry, Mr. Nash need not testify against himself.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

WAY TO LIMIT FEDERAL BUREAUCRACY

The civil rights filibuster and the presidential election year seem to have conspired to choke off some needed legislation. There is a definite need, for instance, for legislation at every session along the lines suggested by Rep. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan.

In 1962 Griffin offered an amendment to provide that "The total number of employees of the department of agriculture shall at no time exceed the number of farmers in America." That's what we call sound legislation.—Corpus Christi Caller.

The system of free capitalism and political liberty need have no fear of communism making inroads if this system can bring to the working millions a decent security.—Brooks (Alberta) Bulletin.

The addition of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey to the Democratic presidential ticket creates political issues that Sen. Barry Goldwater can exploit and make his legions happy.

On this one he will not be required to explain himself in a series of second and third hand modified expressions of sentiment. The issue is created because Humphrey is practically the symbol of political liberalism. He was a founder of the lefty Americans for Democratic Action (ADA). Political liberalism and ADA are the two words that Goldwater has nominated to slay. The political liberalism of the eastern leadership of the Republican party was the issue that won the presidential nomination for Goldwater. The senate and his followers are conservatives.

They regard Humphrey as a dangerous radical and they do not use the word dangerous lightly. Goldwater's most eloquent and consistent pre-convention support came from the hard-nosed conservative magazine "National Review." James Burnham wrote, and the magazine published, an analysis of Americans for Democratic Action. Burnham wrote:

"It must not be forgotten that the ADA program for the total welfare state. Most Americans say that what they want is not socialism, but a planned, democratic mixed economy."

"ADA never has declared for nationalization of all means of production and therefore is not socialist in the 100 per cent classical sense. But neither is any socialist party anywhere at the present time. Arthur Schlesinger in the ADA World (a publication) located ADA within the same movement as the Demo-

REAL HAZARD

Potatoes: Perhaps women and children are the biggest traffic hazard going.

And I don't mean women and children on foot. Have you ever driven down the street behind a car containing two or more young mothers and their offspring? Boy, that's an experience! It's even worse than two women gabbling away like they were holding a 50-year reunion and hadn't met in all that time.

The driver usually has a youngster clinging to her neck and maybe another seated beside her. Then maybe another is leaning over the back of the front seat. Who has any attention left for driving?

You're strictly on your own when you get behind a carload like that! Whatever you guess will be wrong. And if you ever get through the traffic light in the same phase as the young mother, you're strictly lucky!

PUPS FOR KIDS DEPT.

Dear Pot Shots:
We have six puppies to give away. They are half English pointer and half German pointer. They can be picked up any and one-half miles east of Red Cap corner on Kimberly road or phone 423-5698.

IT'LL LEVEL OFF

Dear Pot Shots:
There was quite a backlog of kittens and pups that piled up while you were off on your official two weeks of loafing. Or maybe it wasn't a backlog at all and just reflects an increase of production in the two categories.

Anyway, it's at all possible, I, for one, would appreciate just a bit more variety. Why not strive for a balance of say, one non-pet item for each pet item? Aside from that, it's nice having you back in our midst, sir.

APRICOTS FOR FREE DEPT.

Two trees of apricots are free for the picking at the home of Mrs. Alpha Cederburg, 221 Washington street south.

ANNUAL FIGHT

Sir: Tomatoes or no tomatoes, that is the question—again.

Thanks to a late spring, our tomatoes are just starting to ripen. And now, as happens nearly every year, we're involved in a fight to keep the vines from being frozen long enough for more tomatoes to ripen.

Maybe the best procedure is just to give up fighting and pickle the green tomatoes or make relish out of them or pickles or something. Or maybe just acquire a taste for green tomatoes.

Dear Pot Shots:
We have a cute little fluffy yellow kitten, male, which needs a good home. We hope to find a home for it where it would receive gentle treatment. Phone 733-2244 or call at 1142 Blue Lakes circle (Twin Falls)

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR
If the Republicans cannot beat the Democrats in November, they have no one to blame but themselves.

On the day the Kennedy-Johnson Administration took over, the Bay of Pigs had not occurred. This incredible debacle alone, with its multiple consequences, should be enough to defeat any administration in the history of the United States.

Nor has the catastrophic event been redeemed. History's account of the efforts will mark the responsible men as fools. Yet the thoroughness with which the administration handled the crisis, its supreme performance, President Johnson gains elation and national acclaim, as if by making a "bold decision" by firing an order to retaliate.

On the day Kennedy-Johnson administration took over, the national debt was 285 billion dollars. Mr. Kennedy boosted it three times and Mr. Johnson boosted it again. And, hey, that's our money! Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon has been talking kiddy by mouthing about not one red-kink deficit from beginning to end and our debt is an all-time high. Yet Mr. Dillon says we are to be the victors of our money bags and President Johnson himself triumphs in an image of economy.

Simultaneously, the President embarks on a so-called war on poverty, being practically the same as the war on the economy. The administration employed years—and many billions—ago, if made-work at the taxpayer's expense was new or had succeeded.

Racial tensions and public disorder reduced? They've been so widespread, tragic and severe since the Civil war. "Let us Continue" was the slogan in the Atlantic City convention hall. Go forward is what? Success at home and abroad? Success what and where?

Voltaire said, "He who thinks makes others think." The administration's opposition may find in this duty. Apathy and inaction may be the only success at home and abroad? Success what and where?

Respect for the United States is our first line of defense. Yet Zhdanov, Khrushchev, Castro, Hanoi, fresh from Moscow's Piazza Lumumba university, can march the U. S. consul to the dock with a gun at his head. President Johnson sends him

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. Aug. 31 (AP)—President Johnson and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, in accepting the Democratic presidential nomination, have taken a bold step in the history of the party.

Without saying it flatly, they made the point that their fight in this campaign is not so much with the Republican party as with the supporters of James Marlow of Sen. Barry Goldwater.

But if Johnson and Humphrey follow the technique they used at the Democratic convention, Johnson will be making lofty speeches without direct name-calling while Humphrey tries to hit Goldwater between the eyes.

Johnson was mild, talking of the needs and the glorious possibilities of the hour and now, in one mentioned either the Republicans or Goldwater by name. He presented himself as a man with his eyes on the future.

The more early Humphrey talked of the hour and now, in this can the fight against Goldwater whom he named by name.

Item by item he mentioned major programs approved by congress in the past few years and said they were the best. Republicans joined forces with Goldwater disappeared.

Just how long Johnson retains his aloof and above-the-strife technique may depend on how soon, and to what degree, Goldwater will be able to hit him directly. Goldwater has been reluctant to do this in the past.

But while Johnson refrained from directly mentioning Goldwater by name, his statements which could not be interpreted as anything but swipes at the Arizona senator.

"The contest today," Johnson said, "is not between a party and a party, platform and platform. It is between those who see what can be done and those who want only to maintain the status quo."

He pitched his speech on its theme of a new business—particularly programs in the social welfare field—and that under his leadership they would be fulfilled.

Then, building up to the challenge of Goldwater, Johnson said that for 30 years men of both parties have "built a solid foundation for our present prosperity."

He added: "Too many have worked too hard and too long to see this threatened now by policies which promise to undo all we have done together."

SLAM CONVENTION IN JACOBY SYSTEM
The one revolutionary part of the Jacoby method of asking for aces is the use of five clubs directly over any three no-trump bid by partner as the demand will be able to stop at five no-trump if two aces are missing. The responses to five clubs are: Five diamonds—no aces; four aces; five hearts—one ace; five spades—two aces; and five no-trump—three aces.

Today's hand does not represent any triumph for this method of asking for aces. As long as you have some way to ask for aces you will get the right answers after your partner opens with three no-trump.

The great advantage of this method is that it releases both four clubs to show clubs and for no-trump as a new type of slam. It also releases three no-trump bids and costs you nothing since the number of times you will want to go from three no-trump directly to five clubs is about as close to zero as it is possible to get in bridge.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson, Wendell, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mason Moore, Wendell.

As tokens of sentiment, she had a penny in her shoe and carried a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother Johnson.

Mrs. Stanley Johnson, Paul, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She was attired in a short-length gown of blue brocade tulle fashion with a scooped neckline, cap sleeves and a full gathered skirt. She carried a single long stemmed white carnation.

Plane Crash Kills Priests, 2 Educators

ASPEN, Colo., Aug. 31 (U)—The charred bodies of two Colorado State college faculty members and two Catholic priests were found yesterday near the shattered wreckage of their light plane on a mountain 15 miles northeast of here.

Aboard the single-engine craft was the pilot, Dr. Leonard G. Walsh, 39, head of the CSU education planning services department; John Michael Courtney, 35, instructor at the college in Greeley; the Rev. Andrew J. O'Reilly, 40, assistant pastor of St. Theresa's church in Aurora; and the Rev. Edward D. Ryan, 39, assistant pastor of St. Peter's church in Greeley.

The plane took off Friday on a 145-mile flight. Greeley, Colo. The wreckage was found after an Aspen rancher reported to the civil air patrol that he heard a loud noise and saw smoke Friday afternoon.

Searchers theorized Walsh met with extreme turbulence along his route and was turning back to Aspen when he flew into the side of the mountain. Three passengers were killed Thursday for an educational conference.

Nobody will. Orleó Ballerín, President Johnson's cousin, is one of the first people he has run off, to hear whenever he is in the city. He is a member of the Chicago chapter, belongs to the Chicago chapter, and is a member of the Chicago chapter. He is a member of the Chicago chapter, and is a member of the Chicago chapter.

Slovakia, Aug. 31 (AP)—Police officers who were arrested behind the German shield in the bid to save the Slovak uprising were given medals yesterday during the 20th anniversary celebrations of the revolt.

It appeared to western observers here that the Slovak people felt more affection for American OSS volunteers than they did for the Russians, who have been taking credit for an important role in the uprising.

John and a fifth man would not attend the ceremony at Fort Benning, Adolphine, Minn. They are the only Americans in the OSS team parachuted in German-occupied Slovakia.

Two Break Records, One Comes Close in Olympic Swim Trials

Jastrowski, 23-year-old Indiana medical student who barely missed the 1960 team, twice cracked his world standard of 2:29.6 for the 200-meter breaststroke with a time of 2:28.2 in the afternoon final.

Miss De Varona, the baby of the 1960 swimming team, eclipsed her world record of 5:18.5 for the 400-meter individual medley with a time of 5:14.0 in the final. The 17-year-old star swimmer for the Santa Clara Swim Club of California.

The other two break records in the 100-yard water polo-swimming race of the 1960 Segundo, B. C. of California, edged Don Schollander, 18-year-old sensation of the Santa Clara, B. C., squad, in a tremendous battle, winning by a touch in 4:12.5.

The time was one-fifth of a second slower than Australian Murray Rose's latest world record of 4:13.4. Schollander has a world mark of 4:12.7 pending.

Given Time, Ryan Will Equal Tittle

By The Associated Press "Give me time," intelligent articulate Frank Ryan said earlier this year, "and I'll be another Y. A. Tittle."

Hagerman Returns to 11-Man Football

HAGERMAN, Aug. 31—Two years ago Hagerman's Pirates and coach Al Glanders were wondering how they would adjust to eight-man football formations. This year, with the experiment over because of scheduling problems, the Pirates are wondering again but this time how it will feel to play 11-man ball again.

With 12 returning lettermen, however, coach Glanders figures "we should improve as the season progresses. We still are fairly young but have a real good junior class."

The Pirates lost only one of eight games last fall and only two regulars were lost through graduation—fullback Mike Ensign and guard Dave Thompson. Another member of that club, Jerry Norton, moved to California.

British Say Ban Is 'Great News'

LONDON, Aug. 31 (AP)—Teddy Waltham, secretary of the British boxing board of control, described as great news the decision of the World Boxing association to refuse sanction for the return fight between heavyweight champion Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston.

"We have always taken a strong stand against this particular fight," said Waltham, "and had written to the WBA that it should not take place."

Nichols Stands Pat, Tops Palmer In Carling Play

BIRMINGHAM, Mich., Aug. 31 (AP)—Young, Bobby Nichols' nerves held like strands of steel in the face of a fierce charge by Arnold Palmer Sunday and the 28-year-old PGA titleholder won the $35,000 first prize with a two-under-par 278 in the first Carling world golf championship.

Palmer, the game's most-dreaded finisher, collared Nichols with a spectacular eagle on a fairway shot in the 13th hole and then, after falling two shots back, hit the pin with his approach from the fairway on the 450-yard 18th, bringing the tournament to a dramatic climax.

The ball bounded about 10 feet beyond the cup. While thousands watched in hushed silence, the hero of Arnie's army banged the ball home for a birdie 3, closing 71 and a score of 279 for the $17,000 second money.

Undaunted by the roar ahead of him, the poised Nichols, playing in the final threesome, backed off Palmer, boomed a drive down the middle of the fairway, then his approach to the fast part of the green, 35 feet from the pin, and two-putted his par 4.

This gave him a final round 72. He scrambled during the early holes, just as he did in 70 for 201 and $3,000 this morning in Columbus, but down the stretch he was cool as ice and straight as a rifle shot with almost every club.

South Africa's Gary Player, an imperturbable little man in black, rallied with a final round 70 for 201 and $3,000 this morning, but the loudest cheers were reserved for the magnificent Ben Hogan, the once-dreaded Wee Ike Mon of another era.

The great Hogan, now a slow-walking, semi-retired 52, returned to the Oakland Hills scene of one of his greatest triumphs and finished with a brilliant two-under-par 68 for 282.

This placed him a tie for fourth place with Pete Brown, a burly Negro from Los Angeles, who closed with a 69 to become the third of his great triumphs and finished with a brilliant two-under-par 68 for 282.

Bettor Wins Record Payoff

TIMONIUM, Md., Aug. 31 (AP)—A long bettor won $45,000 in the twin-double Saturday Timonium race track—the last set payoff in Maryland race history.

Hunters Are Cautioned to Use Safety

BOISE, Aug. 31—More than three-fourths of Idaho's fatal hunting accidents last year were self-inflicted or caused by another member of the same hunting party, the Idaho fish and game department disclosed today.

Admonishing hunters to be common sense when handling firearms, Director John R. Wooten pointed out that three of four fatal hunting fatalities were caused by members of the victim's own party. One hunter was killed when his gun accidentally discharged as he used it to cut a ruffed grouse. One fatality was caused by an unidentified hunter.

"The same thing is true in the case of the non-fatalities," he added. "Eight of these accidents were self-inflicted and 3 injuries were caused by members of other members of the same party."

Records show that death and injuries come to hunters through the accidental discharge of guns in moving vehicles; while loading or removing firearms in cars; while crawling fences; crawling through underbrush; stumbling; falling from a tree; and attempts at fast draws with slidearms.

In every recent tournament, going into the last day, the fans have said, "Now Arnie will chew them up." But he didn't.

"Give me time," intelligent articulate Frank Ryan said earlier this year, "and I'll be another Y. A. Tittle."

Jim Purves went 2 up on Loren Foye Sunday on the first 18 holes of the final in the Twin Falls city golf championships and then went on to down him 3 and 2 at the end of the 36-hole day. This was the first time in the history of the city meet that the play was divided between two courses. The first 18 holes of Sunday's final were played at the municipal course and were finished at Blue Lakes Country club with another 18.

Foye defeated Dick Cook 4 and 3 in the semifinals last week-end and earned a chance at Purves for the crown. Purves beat Jerry Olson 4 and 2 to gain his spot in the final.

Purves went 1 up on Foye on the first hole at the city course with a birdie 4 on the par 5 hole. Purves then bogied the second while Foye fired a par 3 to even the match.

Purves won three holes in succession after that, giving him a 3-up advantage over Foye. But Foye birdied the next two and dropped it down to 1.

Purves took the next hole and did not drop his 2-up lead until the 15th when Foye birdied the par-4 hole. Purves then parred the next hole to take a 2-up lead that he never relinquished the rest of the match.

Purves parred the first two holes of the final 18 at Blue Lakes and went to a 4-up lead, the largest he had taken, as Foye shot one-over-par fives on the par-4 holes.

Purves increased his lead again on the par-four seventh hole when Foye bogied and gave Purves a 5-up lead. Purves lead never dropped below 3-up for the remainder of the match.

Braves Split Pair With Giants Sunday

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 31 (P)—Hank Aaron's three-run homer in the eighth inning capped a four-run rally that powered Milwaukee to a 7-4 victory over San Francisco Sunday and a split of a doubleheader. The Braves' uprising turned the table on the Giants who had won the opener 13-10 with a four-run eighth inning uprising.

The Giants had moved ahead 4-3 in the nightcap in the top of the eighth on Orlando Cepeda's two-run single. Then the Braves struck back.

With one out, Felipe Alou was hit by a pitch and stole second. One out later Rico Carty drove him in with a single. Lee Maye then followed with a single and Aaron hit his 23rd homer into the right center field bullpen.
